Remarks of School Board.

Inasmuch as the District Superintendent has treated the subject in such an exhaustive manner it will be unnecessary for the School Board to add much regarding the conditions and needs of our schools. Suffice it to say that we believe real progress has been made during the past year and that it is the desire and aim of all connected with their management to achieve greater successes in the future.

Much credit is due Mr. Newell for his efforts in securing funds sufficient to repaint and thoroughly renovate the High school room and thanks are due him and all others who assisted in transforming this room from what it was to what it now is without cost to the district. In this connection it may be said that the entire building needs painting inside and out, with the exception of the High school room, and we think it will be wise to appropriate a sum sufficient for the purpose this year.

It will be seen that we have closed the fiscal year with a balance on hand but it must be remembered that the schools have been closed earlier than anticipated owing to the prevalence of measles and it is intended to increase the length of the spring term as much as the winter term has been cut short, consequently much of the balance will disappear before another appropriation will be available. If as now seems probable it becomes necessary to maintain schools at the Pond (Div. 6) and at the Branch (Div. 3) the coming year our expenses will be increased proportionally. Again while we have received State aid for several years there is no surety that we shall receive it this year and probably we would not should our appropriations be reduced. Therefore we recommend that a sum at least equal to last year be raised for District Schools.

While the sum expended for books and supplies is less than the amount appropriated for the purpose we could have spent more to good advantage. Many of the books now in use are in bad condition and the best good of the schools requires that a somewhat larger sum be expended during the coming year.

Our High school is doing good work. The present standard cannot be maintained with any less sum than that raised last year.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BUTTERFIELD,
HENRY A. HURLIN,
J. ELROE PERKINS,

School Board.

Total, 260

The foregoing shows 36 pupils in the High school and 29 in the Ninth grade which is properly High school work. A total of 65 are virtually taking advantage of High school instruction or 25 per cent. of all pupils enrolled. This is very creditable. The last state report shows that about 6 per cent. of the pupils in the state attended High school. Another year the percentage of attendance should be even better than this year.

The following tables show the attendance record of the several schools for the school year ending June, 1905, and the summary of the schools' attendance from September, 1905, to February 10, 1906 :

Attendance from September, 1904, to June, 1905.

FOREWORD—It is less than six months since I assumed the duties of this office. My time allotment is one day each week. This is not sufficient for me to wisely determine the condition of your schools a year ago, nor have I been at work a sufficient length of time to understand the obstacles you have encountered which have militated against a fuller realization of your plans for the schools. All that I can here do is to report the condition in which I found the work and make such recommendations as may tend to bring the most efficient instruction and the wisest administration that your town may hope to give to the men and women of the future.

There are weaknesses which must be strengthened. There are before us possibilities and impossibilities, perhaps. In what I shall say I will look into the future and in so doing there shall be no intention to disapprove the efforts of the past. The past is gone, and before us is the hereafter. From the days bygone we may draw lessons to guide us in the future. Then with this understanding permit me to speak unconstrainedly of the needs of your schools.

COURSE OF STUDY—Soon after the opening of school I placed in the hands of each teacher a Course of Study as prepared by the State Department of Public Instruction. Each teacher was directed to follow the course and to adjust her work thereto as rapidly as her limitations would permit. The course is well adapted to the schools in New Hampshire. The Course provides for an elementary training of eight years instead of nine according to our present regime. In order to work upon this basis there will needs be a change in our scheme.

ENTERING AGE—Your superintendent has sent out to every superintendent in the State a circular letter securing opinions of our leading educators as to the advisability of permitting children to enter school at five years of age. The returns are interesting. Twenty-two responses came and twenty replied that eight years were sufficient to prepare pupils for High school if they entered not younger than six years of age. One thought that with a good course they could be fitted in that time if they entered at five. Fifteen of the number believed that six years or more should be the entrance age. When it is considered that ten of these are superintendents of cities where the home life of the children is not so good as that of our rural communities, these results should bear weight. Fifteen reported that they had a nine year course but only four of these stated that they advocated such. Because of this consensus of opinion I recommend that you make the entrance age six years.

NINTH GRADE—This will do away with the Ninth grade and the instruction which now falls upon the over-taxed grade teachers will be placed upon the High school corps. This will save to the town the instruction of one whole year and furthermore it will be a saving of a number of years in the lives of your children, no inconsiderate item.

HIGH SCHOOL—But not alone would the elementary grades profit. It would benefit the High school as well. Our youth would be stimulated to continue longer in school. That child who ends thon's education with the Grammar grades will surely find an up-hill fight in this age of industrialism. The times of our fathers have passed and the successful man of the future will be the one whose every avenue of resource has been cultivated. Our High school is certainly engendering a right spirit and it has been a great pleasure to me to note this among the students. A student atmosphere has begun to develop and I trust its growth will not stop in the near future.

DRAWING—There are a few things that I might suggest in the hope that they may be discussed, if not for action soon, perhaps later. Drawing and Music should hold a place in your course. Especially should the former secure a considerable part of the time of the curriculum. It would be the first stage of a Manual Training course. It is not urged from the utilitarian side that is, I do not intend to convey the thought that a large percentage of pupils will become artists and thus need this instruction. Nor do I claim that a large percentage of your children will ever become Arithmeticians, Historians, Grammarians and the like, yet these subjects are the avenues through which the after life is enriched, and Drawing should be included in the number.

MUSIC—Music is another neglected subject but I do not consider its absence from the work so serious a defect as that of drawing. It must be admitted that it does fulfill a part in our social life of no mean value, and therefore should receive our consideration in the work of the schools.

TEXT BOOKS AND SUPPLIES—The greatest hindrance that we have labored under has been in the way of books and supplies. There is hardly one fourth the books being used at present by the pupils that are fit from a sanitary and ethical standpoint to be thrust into the hands of a child. To give the schools the proper efficiency I do not see how the work can be done on less than $400 for books and supplies. We have a good corps of teachers, pupils of at least average ability, but workmen and stock are of no avail unless the requisite tools are forthcoming.

MEASLES—On account of the prevalence of measles the schools were closed February 13, a number of weeks earlier than scheduled by the school calendar.

CONCLUSION—In summing up what I have said it will be noted that my recommendations include the following :

Raising of the entering age to six years.

Establishment of an eight year elementary course as per recommendation of the State superintendent. Incidentally as a result of this a school year of 35 or 36 weeks.

The absorption of the Ninth grade by the High school.

That a sufficient allowance be made for text-books and supplies.

In addition to the foregoing I have suggested for discussion the need of providing some instruction in Drawing and Music as soon as the sentiment of the community may demand it.

It is fitting for me to state here that my work in your community has been pleasant. That I have reason to thank you, members of the Committee, for that measure of confidence that you have seen fit to place in me and for the individual and combined help you have extended toward making this new work among you as successful as the limitations would permit. That the teachers have willingly tried my suggestions and endeavored to help me in the plans I have brought to their attention. That the pupils of the schools have graciously shown me uniform courtesy. That the citizens whom I have had the pleasure to meet have been cordial and friendly. Thus withal has my work been pleasant among you and I trust has been also fraught with a degree of good to the schools.

Cordially submitted,

HERVEY LUCIUS WOODWARD.
